

"You are lightly tangled: this is Sleep, a shell, so now emerge!" ~ Goethe

Para-Theatrical Workshops, San Francisco Nov 11 & 12, New York Jan 21-22 with Theatre Group Dzieci

Employing elements of ensemble theatre, meditation, and ritual practices, the Dzieci Para-theatrical Workshop serves those who seek a creative communal environment that challenges and inspires. After decades of investigation and practice, company director Matt Mitler, has developed a methodology that transcends typical human barriers, exploring realms both primal and spiritual, while forsaking the common masks of habit and personality. From studies in experimental theatre with Jerzy Grotowski, and psychology with Carl Rogers, and an intensive spiritual training, Mr. Mitler eliminates language, facilitating through direct transmission to the core of being.

Theatre Group Dzieci blends work on performance with work of service, and is committed to Art as a path for transformation. The international ensemble brings performances, workshops, and creative interactions to schools, hospitals, theatres, and sacred spaces.
